Hello! We are incredibly excited you are taking the time to get to know us better. We won't begin to say we understand the journey you are on but we can say we will be there to support you every step of the way. This is a lifelong commitment for us to give your child a loving, caring, and supportive home where we will always put their needs before ours.

We have a lot of family traditions we can't wait to include your baby in. We're going to love teaching your child how to make homemade hot chocolate and cookies while decorating our Christmas trees in the winter. Every spring Trevor will be out in the gardens teaching your child how to care for and nurture the plants and vegetables to grow to their potential. Then in the summer, Heath will be showing them how to process and can them so we can enjoy them all year round!

We cannot wait to show your baby our amazing community of diverse people that live near our home; as well as the rest of the world; the sights, the food, the different cultures, and all the wonderful people that we have met that have become close friends and family in the United States and around the globe.

HEATH'S EXTENDED FAMILY

Heath comes from a large, loving, close-knit family of over 150. Everyone gets together for holidays, birthdays, and other events. Christmastime is a favorite for all of his family. They take two whole days to decorate Grandma and Grandpa's house; then all of them celebrate Christmas night together. Everyone will be excited to take turns holding your baby and, as they grow older, to play with them on the farm.

Trevor's Extended Family

Trevor comes from a smaller family, who all live very close to us. Every Sunday we get together at his parent's house for family dinners, where all of his nieces and nephews enjoy chasing our dogs and playing with each other. His family is very into the arts and music and are always putting on a show and sharing new dance moves.

OPENNESS & THE FUTURE

Our hope is for continued openness at a level that all are comfortable with. We feel that sharing photos, family stories, and visits may be a benefit to the child. We hope for the child to know their adoption journey as best as possible. We know that as a two father household; the child will need guidance on how to explain their unique family structure to their friends as they grow older.

We both want to sincerely thank you for taking the time to learn about what our family has to offer your child. Please don't hesitate to ask us questions if you want to know more.

Fur Babies

We knew it was love at first bark when our fur babies first met in 2012. Heath had a small dog named Redd and Trevor's was named Hazel. Not only were they both color names, they even looked alike! When we took them on walks, everyone thought Redd was Hazel's puppy!

They are no longer with us, but we have adopted other pups from a family member (Dexter), as well as the local county shelter (Falkor).

Trevor is 41 years old and has a sense of adventure and a freedom of spirit that makes my heart happy to be around. He has traveled the world a lot more than this country boy. From the first time I met him, he has encouraged me to dust off my boots and travel the world with him.

Before we met, he toured the US doing theater and dance, worked at Disney, and even taught Winter Guard in the Netherlands for a few years. He is currently working in the banking industry and has already gotten promoted within his first year!

I love that he loves to dance and listen to music. He's a homebody, and prefers being in his garden or on the couch with our dogs instead of a night on the town. He loves playing games like Ticket to Ride, Skip-Bo, or Phase 10 and often brings them along on trips and gatherings with friends.

Heath is 46 years old. He is one of four siblings and has over 150 aunts, uncles and cousins. His close relationship with his mother and her parents is one of the reasons I fell in love with him. He always puts his family first and ensures he talks to them often.

Heath has an amazing work ethic. He has been working since a young age and will most likely be working FOREVER like his grandfather whom is still farming at age the age of 92.

I love how my husband is a nerd through and through. This includes his Magic cards, fancy dice, and love for science fiction books (which explains his whimsical imagination).

Heath enjoys being out with friends while trying new beers and cocktails. He's also part of an LGBTQ+ dart league that plays weekly, sings with a choir that also does volunteer work in the local community. You can also occasionally find him being coerced to watching TV on the couch with me and the dogs.

OUR JOURNEY

We have been together over 10 years now after meeting on an online dating app, and got married in 2016. After our first date, we were inseparable. We have enjoyed traveling the world and love experiencing new things together. Family is important to the both of us, and when we are not at home or traveling, we spend a lot of time with each other's families. Whether we are relaxing while watching movies at home, traveling the world, or at potluck dinners with friends, there is always lots of love and laughter. Both of us are successful in our professional lives. Heath has been with his company for over 24 years and has risen to become the general manager of two successful bars/nightclubs, and Trevor is in the banking industry and moving up quickly.

OUR HOME

We currently live in a home built in the late 1800's in a downtown neighborhood that has multiple schools within walking distance. We have done almost all of the renovation work ourselves and enjoy making it our home. There is a large park and botanical gardens with an enormous children's area only two blocks away. Our fenced yard has a vegetable garden, lots of flowers for picking, and a small fire pit for making smores. Our two dogs love to run and play in our yard; one even eats the veggies right off the plants! We are looking to move to the country so we can have a small farm with animals and extra room for your child to run, play, and dance with the fireflies.

ABOUT US

What lead us to adoption

Family has always been integral to us! We both have always dreamed of starting a family of our own. Heath has eight cousins that were adopted on both sides of his family, and seeing how they were welcomed with open hearts and arms by the rest of the family showed us we, too, could adopt someday. We have so much love and respect for each other; and would love a child to pass that on to. We both have always pictured children in our lives, and can't wait for the day when our dream of having a family comes true.
