

Megan, Elizabeth, & Quinn

INTRODUCING, US

We met while we were working at Applebee's; we have been together since 2014 and got married in 2022 after a quick six-month engagement. Elizabeth's sister was moving to Australia, and it was very important to us to have her at our wedding. Our relationship is built on trust, open communication, and lots of laughter.

"They never fight because any disagreement they have, they are able to have a respectful conversation about it and resolve it together. Their house is filled with a lot of love, laughter, and silliness," Victoria, Elizabeth's sister, writes.

If you were to spend a day with us as a family, you could find us either watching sports (basketball and football are our favorites) or a good movie (the Scream franchise are notable must-see). With the busyness of work and everyday life, we make a point to set aside time for date nights. Our daughter hangs with one of her aunts, and we enjoy our A-Z dates; our favorites are (G) glass-fused ornaments and (P) painting with Pints.

We have known that multiple kids were important to our family, and we cannot wait to welcome your child into the mix. Our entire family has a wide range of interests and we are excited to immerse our children in them as well. Sports, art, nature, and food are important to us. You can count on us going on family trips both locally and around the country to try to experience as much as the world has to offer.

There is no doubt in our hearts that any child who becomes part of our family will grow up knowing they are deeply wanted, endlessly supported, and loved beyond measure.

MEGAN (told by Elizabeth)

Megan is extremely hard-working and leads her team by example. She is smart and determined, which is helpful when appliances in our home break. She keeps me calm during times of worry and is constantly making me laugh.

Megan is patient; she takes time to show Quinn the right, best way to do things. She is constantly reminding me to enjoy the small things in life, making up random songs to our life activities, and teaching Quinn a secret handshake.

JOBS

Elizabeth works from home as a Production Manager for a local mortgage lender. She assists families financially to buy their homes and is able to be flexible with her schedule to take Quinn to appointments and activities.

Megan is a Food & Beverage Director at a local country club, where she manages half the staff. She prepares gourmet dishes for hungry golfers and catering events. She is passionate about what she does and loves serving people good food.

QUINN

Quinn came into our lives via adoption in the summer of 2025. Her joy and warmth have absolutely enamored us and our entire extended family and friends. She has fit so well into our lives that it's hard to imagine a time when she was not with us.

Quinn is the star of the show when we go to family events. She's the first grandchild on Elizabeth's side and the first in a decade on Megan's side. She is extremely spoiled and adored by everyone she meets. Our families and friends have shown her nothing but love and understanding.

Quinn loves going to different activities and adventures with us. She took her first vacation at eight months and first flight at ten months. She has shown immense bravery with testing for a potential genetic disorder (it was negative!) and such comedic grace in how she learns how to live life to the fullest.

ELIZABETH (told by Megan)

Elizabeth is a better mom than I ever could have imagined, and I feel incredibly lucky to experience this life beside her. I can already picture another little one experiencing that same warmth, comfort, silliness, patience, and unconditional love.

One of my favorite things is watching Quinn's face when Elizabeth walks into the room. Her whole expression changes. She lights up, smiles, and immediately wants to be near her. There is something so pure about seeing how much Quinn loves and trusts her. Those little moments may seem simple, but to me, they say everything about the kind of mother Elizabeth is.

PETS

Roscoe is our 11-year-old chunky cat who yells at us when he enters rooms for no reason. He loves sitting next to Elizabeth as she works (he has his own office chair) and enjoys sneaking outside to roll around on the concrete.

We have a two-year-old boxer mix, Pixie, who cannot get enough walks around the neighborhood. She absolutely loves tennis balls and car rides. She and Quinn adore each other and love to sit so close together.

FAMILY

Megan is the second youngest of five siblings with two sisters and two brothers. She has six nieces and nephews; we love supporting all their various sports. Our niece is playing D1 college soccer and we travel to watch her games. Her parents visit our house weekly to help with lawn care and all our renovation projects. Megan's mom immediately comes to our house and takes Quinn outside to hang out.

Elizabeth is the oldest of three siblings with a sister and brother. Her brother died when he was four and her sister was adopted as a newborn; we love that Quinn has an aunt to relate to. Her parents watch Quinn twice a week while we're at work.

We spend holidays with both our families; our Christmas celebrations span three to four days to ensure we spend time with everyone. Megan's cousins have kids Quinn's age and it is so wonderful to see them hang out with each other and grow together.

THANK YOU

Thank you for letting us give you a glimpse into our little family life; one that we hope you can help us complete. We are happier every day and cannot wait to complete that happiness with another child.

We will raise our children to know their worth, to be kind and respectful, and to help make the world a better place. It is important for us that our children grow up knowing they are adopted - there are many ways a family is made, and they will understand all of those. We have created an environment that welcomes children with open arms, no matter what. We are patient, caring, understanding, and loving parents, and we have a village behind us that is supportive and loves our children like their own.

We acknowledge that this is a huge decision for you, and we want you to be at peace with that decision. We are open to determining a level of openness that works for us all. Thank you again for taking the time to learn about us.
