

Bryan & Hillary

Hello! We are Bryan and Hillary. We made this book wanting to show you the people and things we both enjoy so you can get a view into what a life with us is like. We have always wanted a family, even before we got married in 2021. While we can't achieve this on our own, we are hoping to bring a child into our lives that we can show the world to and love. Everyone deserves their opportunity to explore the world unbound, finding passions along the way.

We understand how difficult this is for you in selecting those who will be giving your child their place in the world through adoption. Choosing this route is difficult, but we hope you can find peace in knowing that we are committed to helping them grow into the passionate, caring person they choose to be, together. You have spent many days and nights thinking about what is the best for them, hoping those you place them with will treat them fairly, compassionately, and with love. Thank you for taking the time to look through this brief window of what the world could look like for your child, and know that we will whole heartedly love them unconditionally.

our Life

Hillary and Bryan met while working together. Our first date was at a local restaurant sitting outside on the patio. We talked for hours and then went down to the riverside.

We got married February 13th, 2021 in the pandemic. We had a small ceremony where Hillary's brother, Joey, officiated our wedding in our first home. We then adopted our two cats, Beckham and Boston, within months of each other in 2022. Bryan worked from home and was having the hardest time not letting them play together at first since Boston was much smaller and didn't want them to get hurt. Now they are the best of friends.

What I love about Bryan

Bryan is one of the most caring, supportive, and driven people I know. Whenever someone needs help, he's the first person there. He has been so supportive of me and others in everything we do. He is right there on the sidelines cheering us on. He puts one hundred percent in all he does and is always trying to achieve his goals, whether it's graduating from college to getting his dream job or coaching his nephews. Bryan is very goofy and energetic, when he walks into a room it lights up. Everywhere we go he makes new friends (that's why he has so many). He always jokes it's the reason why metal detectors go off around him, his personality is just magnetic. I can't see my life without Bryan in it. He is my best friend and the love of my life. he would make an amazing father to a very blessed baby and I can't wait to see him as one.

What I love about Hillary

Hillary is so wonderful. She is quirky, fun, organized, and always looking for something to put passion into. Hillary is creative as well. She loves art; she reads and draws while also taking the time to appreciate the beauty of nature. Hillary intrinsitcally brings color to the world around her through her bright personality and insights.

Choosing to spend our lives together has brought me so much joy. Hillary is supporting in all of the right ways. She also shows her love to the world on a regular basis, especially her love for caring for others. I'm excited to see her shine as a mother. She deserves the world.

Hillary

Hi! I grew up with my younger brother. My family had many traditions growing up and still do some today. Whether it's camping every summer, experiencing all the joys of Christmas, gathering with extended family to celebrate life's milestones or attending our weekly family dinners. My parents worked really hard to provide the best life and teaching us how to be respectful and loving individuals. I learned how to be self sufficient and was taught life skills starting at a young age.

I work from home part time as an administrative assistant with extremely flexible hours. In my spare time I love to read, bake, and watch movies. Bryan and I also love to play board games with our friends and family. I enjoy traveling and visiting smaller cities and towns, and enjoying nature and camping. My favorite place to visit is Hocking Hills, as I love the quiet and serenity.

Hi! I know you've seen a bit about our journey and Hillary, and I wanted to take some time to introduce myself and my passions as well. I grew up with three siblings and I am the second oldest. I went to a local art school for high school, and graduated from college with a degree in Business Administration. My work is in public finance and love being able to make a true impact on people's lives.

I absolutely love being able to spend time with family and friends doing a multitude of things. Soccer, baseball, playing board games and so much more. I even coach my nephew's soccer teams in the summer. In my downtime, I love to read, take walks and write. I believe that focusing on both intrinsic and extrinsic areas of life leads to personal fulfillment.

Bryan's Family

Hillary's Family

Having a family and helping a child explore the world and grow has always been something we have wanted out of life. We are excited to learn their passions as well as share my own with them. We are looking to instill values of community, expression and living within the comfort of one's own circumstances. Everyone has their own path, and as parents it is my job to help them learn and grow with the world around them.

meet our Friends

We have a huge community of friends where we are all there for each other. We usually meet for a monthly board game night and spend weekends as couples together often. Here is our closest circle and loving friends. Some of which also having been building their families!

our Home

We live in a three bedroom home with a full basement and an acre of yard. Our neighborhood has a playground that the community uses all of the time. The community brings in food trucks weekly where people get together and meet their neighbors for a meal.

We want to thank you for taking the time to glimpse into our lives and see how a child would fit into it. We want to let you know we understand how difficult your choice is. We hope to give a child the opportunity to live life the way they envision it and love them along the way.
