TREVOR & JESSICA

Thank you so much for taking the time to view our profile and for allowing us to share a little bit about our family with you. Although we have never met, we want you to know that we deeply admire the strength, selflessness, and courage it takes to consider adoption. We can only imagine how difficult and emotional this decision must be, and we are honored to even be considered as part of your journey. This will be our second adoption. We were blessed with our beautiful little boy, Baylor, in February 2025. We have an open adoption with his birth parents; we stay in contact with them each month and have annual visits. One of the things we love most is being able to teach Baylor that he has so many people who love him and that his birth family will always be an important part of his story. If that is something you would want for your little one, we would be honored to offer that same love, openness, and respect if we are chosen and have the opportunity to meet or speak with you, we would be grateful for the chance to get to know you, listen to what is important to you, and answer any questions you may have. We understand that this is your journey, and we would always want to respect the relationship and level of openness that feels right for you. Your little one would be welcomed into a home filled with love, laughter, family, and support. We have a wonderful community of family and friends who would be incredibly excited to welcome another child into our lives and into the traditions, holidays, and everyday moments that make our family so special.

With Love,

Jessica, Trevor & Baylor

About Trevor from Jessica

Trevor is an amazing father and would probably tell you that he is the funniest person in the world—needless to say, he has a great sense of humor! He is incredibly hardworking and is definitely the handyman of our family. There isn't much he can't figure out or fix around our home.

He loves being outdoors and spending time in his shop, which works out perfectly because those are some of Baylor's favorite places to be, too. Whether he is working on one of his trucks, building something for our home, or helping with a project, Trevor puts his whole heart into everything he does.

And then there's football season! On Sundays, you will most likely find him glued to the game, whether he is watching with friends or enjoying a quiet Sunday watching it with us. He loves his football, but above all, he loves our family.

About Jessica from Trevor

Jessica loves to stay busy, but don't let that fool you—family will always come first. Being a mom to our son is her favorite thing! She is a high school volleyball coach, and we love spending our evenings cheering her on from the sidelines and supporting her team.

Jessica also enjoys working out whenever she can find the time, but her favorite way to relax, though, is mowing the grass. It may sound funny, but it truly is her happy place. She loves putting on her favorite podcast or audiobook, getting outside, and enjoying some fresh air while she mows.

About Us

We met in high school, but after graduation, life took us in different directions. Jessica went off to college while Trevor went straight into the workforce. Three years later, our paths crossed again, and the rest is history! We have now been together for 11 years and have been married for 7.

Today, Jessica works in the healthcare industry, and Trevor is a plant operator for a local asphalt company. We both work hard, but we always make time for the things that matter most—especially our family.

When we have free time, you will usually find us outdoors. Camping on the weekends is one of our favorite things to do, and every year we take a week-long family trip out of state. We love exploring hiking trails, kayaking on lakes and rivers, and simply enjoying time together away from the busyness of everyday life.

Family is a huge priority for us, and we believe some of the most important moments happen in the little things. No matter how busy our day may be, we make it a point to sit down together and enjoy dinner as a family.

Baylor is our greatest blessing, and we are thankful for him every single day. He absolutely adores his cousins and loves having so many people around to play with, but we know he would love nothing more than to have a sibling of his own—a built-in best friend to grow up beside, share adventures with, make memories with, and have by his side through all of life's seasons.

We want our home to be a place filled with love, laughter, adventure, and traditions that our family will look forward to and remember for years to come.

Our Home & Our Pets

We bought our first house nine years ago and still live here today! We live in the country and love every bit of it. We have a little plot of land that allows Baylor, the dogs, and the chickens to run and play all day!

Family & Traditions

Jessica's Family

Jessica comes from a very large, close-knit family. Between her mom and stepdad and her dad and stepmom, she has seven siblings! With such a big family, there is never a shortage of celebrations, gatherings, or people to love.

We have also created some special family traditions over the years. Thanksgiving is spent at our house with Jessica's dad, and Christmas Day is spent at her stepdad's house. We love having a home filled with family, good food, laughter, and making memories together.

Jessica's Dad and Family for Thanksgiving

Jessica's Mother and sisters with her niece and Baylor for Christmas

Jessica's Stepdad and family on beach vacation.

Christmas PJ Tradition with Baylor.

Annual camping trip out of town!

Breakfast with Baylor's birth parents

Most of the nieces and nephews with Trevor's parents.

Trevor's parents and siblings

Trevor's Family

Trevor comes from a big family as well. He has two sisters and two brothers, and together we have 14 nieces and nephews on his side! There is always something to celebrate, whether it's a birthday, holiday, or just getting everyone together. We love watching all of the kids grow up together and being part of their lives.

We split Christmas Eve between Trevor's parents' home and Jessica's mom's home, which gives us the opportunity to spend time with both sides of our family.

Our families are a huge part of our lives, and we cannot wait to continue building those traditions and creating new memories as our family grows.

Fourth of July

The Fourth of July has always been Jessica's favorite holiday, and over the years, it has become the Albert family's favorite day of the year! Seven years ago, we started a simple tradition of having our families over for a small cookout and a 10-minute fireworks show.

What started as a small family gathering has grown into something much bigger. Over the years, we have joined together with our neighbors, and now 75–80 family members, friends, and neighbors come together to celebrate. We smoke way more meat than we probably need, make enough food to feed an army, and put on a fireworks show that everyone looks forward to!

Our entire family gets to be part of this special day, and we make sure there is something for everyone to enjoy. We have inflatables, kids' crafts, cornhole, water games, plenty of food, and, of course, lots of laughter. The kids spend the day running around together while the adults visit, catch up, and enjoy watching the next generation make memories of their own.

Baylor's favorite part of the day is playing with his friends and cousins on the bounce houses. Watching him run, laugh, and be completely carefree is one of our favorite things. As we think about growing our family, we can't help but picture him sharing these moments with a sibling—having someone by his side to play with, laugh with, and create those childhood memories together. We hope to give Baylor the gift of growing up alongside a sibling, sharing not only our family traditions but also the little everyday moments that become some of the most meaningful memories in life. It would mean so much to us to watch them grow up together, surrounded by a family who loves them both deeply and give him the sibling connection that Trevor and I are so happy to have ourselves.

If we haven't made it clear yet, this is by far our favorite day of the year! Jessica especially loves hosting and spending the day cooking for a house—and yard—full of people we love.

Baylor's Birth Parents

Baylor's birth parents are truly amazing, and we feel so fortunate to have the relationship we do with them. To this day, we maintain open communication and have a mutual agreement to get together at least once a year. Last year, we spent a night at Great Wolf Lodge, where we swam for most of the day, enjoyed dinner together, and ended the evening playing card games. We continue to talk almost every other week, and over time, we have built an incredible relationship that means so much to all of us.

It brings us all so much happiness to know that Baylor is surrounded by so much love. One of the most special parts of our open adoption is knowing that he will always have the opportunity to know his birth family and understand where he comes from. We want him to grow up knowing how deeply loved he is by everyone in his life.. He gets to be loved by all of us, and that is such a beautiful thing.

Thank You

Thank you again for taking the time to look through our profile and get to know a little bit about us. We would truly love the opportunity to talk with you, get to know you, and hear more about your story and your hopes for the future. If you choose us to be part of your journey, we would be honored to walk alongside you and welcome your little one into our family with so much love. We want to give your child the life, love, opportunities, and family you hope for them, while always honoring the special bond they have with you.

